Instead this book will teach you how to do it without compromising your own style. This book teaches the reader all the microblading techniques you need to know, including how to properly lay in all the hair to get the effect you are after. When I first started out in microblading I didn't have a clue about where to start. I was told by many people it was very hard to do it yourself and that's why there was a need for a good book to teach you. Then I read a book by a microblader, it told me that the best way to learn it was to draw on a paper and then do it on your skin, which is not at all what I wanted to learn. In this book I will show you how easy it is to learn and it will be a walk in the park for you if you follow my steps correctly. Let's get started with the first step to learn how to do it yourself. I will explain the steps and techniques needed to get the look you are after. I will teach you the right eyebrow first so that when you start on the other eyebrow you will have a reference to base your steps on. The book will teach you many methods and tools to make the job easier and the result better. Let's get started with what the author suggests you need to have before you start. What you need to start: *Eyeshadow Eyebrows *Makeup *Eyeliner *Makeup & tools Let's start the first step which is to define your eyebrows. You will start by drawing the eyebrows shape on paper then you will transfer it to your skin. The eyebrow shape is an important part of this book, so let's start the process. If you want to follow the steps below you will need to have the same eyebrows as in the first picture. Once you have your eyebrow shape drawn on paper you are ready to start. Step 2 – Eyebrows Let's start the eyebrows. Follow the steps below to get your first brow hair placement. Start by laying the brow guide in the starting point and draw a line as close as possible. Draw a line that is in a diagonal and comes as close as possible to the starting point. Draw a line to the eyebrow center so that your eyebrow guide line is in the middle of the eyebrow. Your eyebrow guide will end up looking like a triangle in the center of 82157476af
